Vote for Sleeper.

Vote the straight ticket.

Beware of bogus tickets.

Ah, there, my policeman.

Saxville-West is a hood.

The day of republican triumph is near at hand.

Give the straight legislative ticket your solid support.

Vote early, but don't attempt to vote often. The law draws the line on repeaters.

How about the Scandinavian democrats. There is only one in town and he's on the police force.

How do our democratic friends like the idea of Mr. Stivers' offer to vote for a republican congressman?

Vote for the man for the legislature who will fairly represent the people and not for the man who proposes to trade you off.

BRO. STIVERS indicates that he is burning up with a desire to vote for Mr. Nelson for congressman. A cunning dodge, Friar, but it won't work.

Our friend Stivers speaks of Mr. Donnelly as a flopper. We are reminded of the story of the kettle and the pot—one calling the other a black ass.

Have you noticed that the democratic flag is hung in an opposite position to the republican banner. Their stars are pointed to the solid south.

MR. HOLLAND and his friends effect to catch a few votes in Aitkin county by claiming that he, Holland, is a 2d, 3d or 4th cousin of Knute Nelson and Knute isn't a bit proud, either!

An especial effort will be made to prevent fraudulent voting next Tuesday. If any man is detected in the act he will be promptly juggled and there will be men at every polling place to watch it.

AFFIDAVIT JOHNSON still holds his position on the police force, but we'll wager our reputation that the democrats won't have any use for him after election. It reflects great credit on the city administration.

The switchmen of the Northern Pacific railroad at Helena are out on a strike. Their wages are $2.25 a day, and they demand standard pay on the St. Paul bases. All freight trains are delayed here, and mails are 24 hours late. The police have been ordered out.

BRO. STIVERS' bid for the Scandinavian vote, by intimating that if he is elected he will vote for Knute Nelson for United States senator, is one of the best jokes of the season. Michael Doran will call around about that time and it will be like it was in the state convention on Doc Ames, and Stivers would be compelled to vote for the "Boss." The Friar's bait was thrown out as a feeler, but the Scandinavians are not to be caught with chaff this year, and they are having a great amount of sport at Mr. Stivers' expense.

The ass Canfield that brays republican doctrines for the Pioneer Press and democratic slush for the Globe is still at large. The Pioneer Press has done more to injure the republican party in Crow Wing county through this medium than any other influence, and still they are indiscreet enough to continue him in their service. That excellent journal may wake up some morning and find out that its subscribers in Brainerd are not such chumps as they seem to think. Will the Pioneer Press please make a note of this.

Now, since Judge Brewer's decision in the Northern Pacific indemnity lands has been published, confirming Judge Sleeper's decision in the matter, and now that the Commissioner of the land office has reversed the ruling of the St. Cloud land office in receiving final proofs of settlers on these lands, the settlers can readily see that the hardship imposed on them is not the result Judge Sleeper's sustaining the injunctions against them, but the result of the erroneous ruling of Secretary Lamar, followed by equally gross errors on the part of the St. Cloud land office. Judge Sleeper saw that the law being plainly against the settlers holding these lands, it was not only legally right to hold as he did, but that it was vastly to the advantage of every settler to have the matter settled at once, before they had been to greater expense. The settlers should now relieve Judge Sleeper of all blame for this hardship and place the responsibility where it belongs.

HOW IT WORKS!

An Infamous and Ruinous Policy—
The Decision Held Back for Political Purposes.

From Sunday's Pioneer Press.]

The secretaries of the interior and the commissioner of the general land office, with one exception, for eighteen years last past, have uniformly held that the joint resolution of congress, approved May 31, 1870, created and gave to the Northern Pacific Railroad company a second indemnity belt of ten miles in width on each side of its road. The railroad company, acting under the directions prescribed by the secretary of the interior, between 1883 and 1886, selected in said second indemnity belt in the State of Minnesota, 372,011.47 acres of land; and such sections, were, at the time they were made, duly approved by the registers and receivers of the local land offices and by the department of the interior.

No action whatever has ever been taken by the commissioner of the general land office or by the secretary of the interior upon these lists of selections. Aug. 15, 1887, Secretary Lamar, with full knowledge that such selection lists were on file with the commissioner of the general land office, and that no action had been taken thereon, and without an examination into the merits of the case, declared the lands so selected public and subject to entry under the homestead and pre-emption laws. Prior to this ruling by Secretary Lamar and after the selections had been allowed and approved by the officers of the local land offices, the Northern Pacific Railroad company sold large quantities of the land so selected, and the parties purchasing the same paid their money therefor in good faith and had made valuable improvements thereon. The secretary's decision declaring these lands public and subject to the homestead and pre-emption laws was made without giving these purchasers an opportunity to assert their rights or protect their improvements. Within six months after the ruling of Aug. 15, 1887, by Secretary Lamar, the railroad company, for the purpose of securing a title to the land at the hearing as a reason why the entry should not be perfected, then the question respecting the validity, superiority or inferiority of the purchase of such claim becomes a matter for determination.

While the reasons assigned by you for refusing to allow the protestants to be heard in court so far as the state of fact is concerned, it is not sufficient to warrant your action; and the same is hereby overruled. The papers submitted by the protestants referred to are hereby returned to you for consideration in connection with such testimony as may or may have been presented in support of the entries and filings against which the protest is directed; and you will afford the protestants opportunities to be heard, and tender such decisions as the law, the facts, the testimony and the rules and regulations applicable to each case may warrant, and otherwise proceed in accordance with the established practice.

The instructions contained in the letter of the secretary of the interior, dated Sept. 28, 1888, a copy of which was forwarded to you with letter "F," of the 15th inst., are applicable to the cases of this class.

EFFECT OF THE RULING.

Under the above ruling 100 cases in which settlers have been allowed to make final proof upon Northern Pacific second indemnity lands by the register and receiver of the St. Cloud land office, was reversed. As under the recent decision of Judge Brewer, it is settled that the Northern Pacific Railroad company is entitled to select lands within the second indemnity belt, it would appear that where entries have been made upon second indemnity lands previously selected by the railroad company, these entries will be canceled. The letter of the secretary of the interior of Sept. 28, 1888, and the commissioner's letter "F" of the 15th, to which reference is made in the above decision, require that applications to make entry of second indemnity lands should be governed by the same rules applicable to first indemnity land, viz: That the railroad company shall be notified of the application to make the entry, and be allowed thirty days within which to file its objections. The register and receiver are required to order a hearing to determine whether the lands are subject to the company's right of selection; and if they are found so to be, the application should be rejected. The effect of the land policy instituted by Secretary Lamar in 1887 has been, not to throw open the indemnity lands to settlers, but to encourage settlers to enter into contests with the railroad land grant corporations, in which every advantage has been on the side of the corporation; and to throw into doubt and confusion the title to all of this class of lands, amounting in the case of the Northern Pacific land grant alone to every alternate section of land in a strip twenty miles wide, and extending from Ashland, in Wisconsin, to Puget Sound, in Washington territory.

A man was digging a hole in a field adjoining Trinity Church, Margate, England, when his pickaxe suddenly penetrated a cavity and fell from his hand. He just managed to move before the earth gave way and exhausted a large subterranean chamber about twelve feet in height. It was found to contain a number of human and other remains, and there was also a long underground passage, probably connecting the chamber with the seashore. Within a hundred yards of the spot there are some very remarkable smuggler's caves, and there is little doubt that the present discovery is of an obscure portion of this retreat.

break has occurred in the Cornwall canal. A great number of barges loaded with lumber for American markets have been up for three weeks, and cannot move until the break is repaired.

There is a likelihood of serious trouble with Indians at Morley, N. W. T. While eight ges of Stoney Indians under Chief Chiniki are hunting between Sheep creek and High river, near Chiniki, a short distance behind the Hudson Bay post, they were asked to smoke. On refusing he was fired upon. He returned fire, but was shot in the thigh and related to his band. The same night another Indian was fired upon by Bloods while driving horses, and wounded in the breast.

The attorney general expresses his determination to effect a crossing at all hazards, and posters and bills of all descriptions were sent throughout the city calling on the citizens to buy bonds for special constables to protect the tracklayers crossing the southwestern branch." After news that the injunction had been dissolved was generally known around the city, a reporter interviewed General S. P. Whyte, the attorney general, and he said that the Canadian Pacific. Mr. Whyte stated in effect that the company were still going to protect their property and resist a crossing, pending a decision of the state supreme court. He said that the company had notified their men have been notified to hold them in readiness to cross the bridge, and that the citizens enrolled themselves as special constables to act for the Northern Pacific.

The sale was therefore deferred pending the conclusion of the bargain with the syndicate.

Albert A. Shaver, ex-county treasurer of Orange, Md., is understood to have been charged with a bribe between $1,000 and $1,800 the county funds during his term of office in 1884. On the night of May 14, 1884, Shaver was found bound and gagged in his cell, and he declared he had been robbed of $1,000. His story is not generally believed, and the arrest is the result of investigations that have since been made.

And here I am going to say a word of cheer to people who have never had a word of consolation on that subject. There are men and women in the world by hundreds of thousands who have never, day after day, who have a natural taste, and yet all their lives that taste has been suppressed, and although they could appreciate the galleries of Dresden and Vienna and Naples far more than I can, they have never had a chance to see them. They must support their household and bread and schooling for their children as of more importance than pictures. Though fond of music they are compelled to live amid discord, and though fond of conversation they are crowded out of the parlor by the run scheme and a small price she bought a very old house that was in disuse. She restored the old house, carefully preserving the original style, laid the grounds suitably and attractively, and advertised the place for sale. She made handsomely by the transaction, and repeated it. After she had sold her third house she had enough money, and retired from business.

Saved His Umbrella

Some one took an umbrella from the hallway of a Lewiston house, and about the same time a dog was missed. A search was made, and the dog was at last found in Lisbon street, standing near the missing umbrella. A stranger had come into the store, followed the dog. When he went out he took the umbrella, which the dog carefully guarded until his owner appeared. Lewiston Me. Gazette.

Local News Notes.

Politicians have been making things lively round har this week.

Mrs. C. P. Potter lies dangerously ill and is not expected to recover.

The new poor farm structure is completed and the commissioners will view it to-day.

The firm of Bradbury & Peabody has been dissolved, Mr. Bradbury continuing the business.

Small house to rent near the railroad shops on south side. Enquire of F. G. Sundberg.

Regular meeting for young men at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 3:30 Sunday afternoon. Everybody invited.

Rev. I. Bergstrom will answer the speech of H. Stockenström, Esq., at the Swedish Baptist church Monday evening. Let all come and hear the other side.

Go to the polls early if you expect to vote. In the First ward there are 775 men registered and it will be an utter impossibility for them all to vote and some one must get left. It is the duty of every republican to vote early.

Mr. Henry Knieff, of Bay Lake, died Sunday last, aged 66. Mr. Knieff was an old soldier, belonging to the G. A. R. Post at Aitkin and was buried by them. He has been a sufferer from head disease and dropsy for many years.

W. A. Fleming—I think that special attention of the voters ought to be called to at least one of the proposed amendments to the state constitution. It is as follows:

Any combination of persons, either as individuals or as members or officers of any corporation to monopolize the markets for food products in this State, or to interfere with or restrict the freedom of such markets is hereby declared to be a criminal conspiracy, and shall be punished in such manner as the Legislature shall provide.

This is a direct blow at trusts, pools and corners, and will if adopted, prevent such combinations to raise the price of the necessities of life.

Bad Wreck.

On Saturday evening last No. 1 was approaching a station called Wheelock, four miles this side of Motley, the train ran into an open switch, the engine and four cars plunging off a twenty-foot bank. The engineer had presence of mind enough to put on his air, and this prevented a horrible catastrophe. Fireman Alex. Brown was instantly killed and Engineer Swart was crushed and seriously hurt about the limbs but will recover. Clinton Mayne, who was riding on the steps of a mail car was caught between the car and bank and badly bruised, and it is yet uncertain whether he will recover or not. Two mail clerks were injured, but not seriously. None of the passengers received a scratch. Fireman Brown's remains were sent to Jackson, Mich., by the B. of L. F.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The W. C. T. U. meeting held Tuesday, p. m., with Mrs. Huestis was well attended. The subject of reading "Heredity" was very interesting. The Union voted to publish in the city papers resolutions correcting the opinion held by some that we, as an organization, are pledged to the third party. A committee was appointed to draft said resolutions who reported the following:

Resolved, that the best interests of the temperance cause require that the W. C. T. U., as an organization, announce our non-partisan stand in regard to the third party.

Resolved, that we do not consider any member of the W. C. T. U. disloyal to the temperance cause who does not indorse the third party.

Change of Time.

On Tuesday, the 6th inst., a new time card will be in effect on the N. P. R. R. No. 1 will reach Brainerd at 9:45 p. m., instead of 8:45, as now. No. 2 will arrive at 12:50 p. m., instead of 11:55 p. m. Nos. 3, 4 and 8 unchanged. No. 5 will arrive at 2:20 p. m. daily, instead of 1:20 p. m. No. 6 will arrive at 1:55 p. m. daily, instead of 12:55. No. 7 will arrive at 9:05 p. m., instead of 8:35. All trains run daily.

Notice of Dissolution.

The co-partnership heretofore existing by and between F. A. Bradbury and C. E. Peabody, as Bradbury & Peabody, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, F. A. Bradbury continuing the business, assuming all indebtedness of the old firm, and collecting all outstanding accounts due said firm.

"The Democrat is pleased to note by the Brainerd, Minn., Journal, that W. H. Mantor, Esq., formerly of the law firm of Curtis & Mantor, of this city, is a candidate for district attorney. Mr. Mantor tried several important criminal cases in this county with District Attorney Curtis, resulting in success, and his practice in the justice courts was also marked with success. Besides his successful practice Mr. Mantor also made many personal friends in Portage who regretted very much his departure from our flourishing city, but they will be glad to note his success any where, and hope he may be elected to serve Crow Wing county, and we will warrant the county to get the best kind of service."—[Portage (Wis.) DONNELLY TALKS.

The Sage of Ninager Delivers an Eloquent Speech to the Citizens of Brainerd.

A Torch Light Procession Six Blocks Long.

Brainerd was enveloped in a blaze of glory on Thursday evening last as it never was before. The principal residences were illuminated and also the business houses. At 7:15 the republican forces began to assemble in front of Sleeper block and as fast as they came up they were handed torches. The line was formed on Sixth street with the uniform men in front. As fast as the men fell into rank they were provided with Roman candles. At the head of the column was the Brainerd band, and the mounted officers were Wm. Seeley, Dr. Camp and Dr. Groves. At 8 o'clock the column moved up Sixth street to Main and then to East Brainerd, where they were reinforced by the marching club of that place. On the return the line of men, two abreast, reached for a distance of six blocks and the effect was one of the grandest ever witnessed in this city. As the procession moved up Front street on the return hundreds of Roman candles and rockets were discharged and the effect can be better imagined than described. Arriving at the opera house the line filed in and were seated as far as possible in the parquet which had been reserved for them. The opera house was packed and every available inch of standing room above and below was occupied and many were unable to gain admission. C. L. Spaulding, president of the republican club, introduced Mr. Donnelly in his usual pleasant manner, and as the speaker advanced he was greeted with deafening applause. Mr. Donnelly prefaced his speech with complimentary remarks in relation to our city and the unusual turnout. Indeed, he thought that the demonstration would be highly flattering to even the cities of St. Paul or Minneapolis. After some preliminary remarks he proceeded to show up Mr. Shadrick's record as connected with the Knights of Labor. In fact he stated that Shadrick had been kicked out of that order and that he was nothing but a high private in the rear rank when he did belong instead of organizer as he stated to the democrats on Monday night.

"When I returned from the British Isles I found a meeting called, made up from the Farmers' Alliance and other labor organizations. The meeting nominated me for governor. I did not think at the time that the project was brood. I was broad enough in principles, but hardly broad enough as regards the finances. I went out and canvassed the state, and spent my own money. There was no money to further the campaign, as there was but $68 subscribed and but $15 in the treasury. I would not mention these humiliating facts were it not that I have been attacked from so many quarters. Well, the upshot was that the ticket was withdrawn. I did not ask them to do it, but the crowd did counter. I did it from my own free will. I was then like the man in the "man without a party." I either had to fish or cut bait, so I went to the republican party. Now I said I had to choose a party, when the committee pulled the platform from under my feet. Well, there was the prohibition party. It is composed of good men and all that, but it was too much like my own party. There wasn't enough of it. I saw that the prohibition party couldn't elect any one themselves. They could defeat somebody and it might be the wrong man. I found in this great national struggle that there was no time for false issues. In this great coming battle for the possession of the nation, the outcome of which holds the destiny of our beloved land, there is no time for hand organs and private views. A man must be fish, flesh or red herring.

I do not want to say anything abusive about the democratic party, but I say that it is made up of two parties like one of these prodigies we sometimes find in a hen coop—adouble yolked egg. First, there is a liberal, representative party, who supported Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois. On the other hand there is the conservative party. In the time of war many democrats went down south and nobly fought for their flag; but let me remind you that there was another kind led by Vallandigham who tried to get soldiers of the north to desert their army, thereby strengthening the army of the enemy by weakening our own. Then again, that ignoble Buchanan said a few weeks before he retired from the chair: "While the south has no right to secede," this nation has no right to prevent it." The fact was just before Abraham Lincoln was sworn in, by the head at that time of the present government. If we were to listen to such doctrine as this our beautiful constellation of stars would become a blank.

When it comes to state democratic parties, who is the leader of that party in this state? Why James J. Hill. Who are his lieutenants? Michael Doran and Patrick Kelly. Two years ago Doctor Ames went out into the country and spoke on living issues. He reduced the republican majority from 2,000 to 2,000. Why didn't the democratic party nominate him again, when he might possibly have wiped out the remaining 2,000? Because J. H. Hill, Messrs. Kelly and Doran did not want the democratic party to win under the leadership of Ames. They took him to the convention, which might well be called Jim Hill's bull yard, slaughtered him and then threw him over the fence. There he lays now like a cat without a "meow" in his mouth or a wiggle in his tail. "Scratch a Russian and you find a tartar." I might say, "Scratch the democratic party and you find Jim Hill." How could I have asked my friends of the Farm and Labor party to follow me if I had gone to such a party as this?

I will not say anything unkind about Wilson, as I respect him as a man, but Kelly, Doran and Hill knew very well when they killed Ames that Wilson's ideas were different, or they would not have taken him. Now Wilson goes about talking on the tariff. "What in thunder has he to do with the tariff? Congress has the tariff. Do you suppose that Wilson was elected—which he will not be—that he will write a message to the state legislature and tell them to repeal the tariff act? He ought to talk about the tariff of the state. He dare not, however, because if he did he would be taken off the head of the ticket. In regard to the republican candidate for governor, W. B. Merriam, let me say that he is a friend honest man; and will make the best governor the state ever had."

Mr. Donnelly called upon the laboring men to stand by Messrs. Fleming, Flynn and Dunn, the republican nominees for the legislature, and explained to them how disastrously it might result if democrats were sent from this district.

When he mentioned Judge Sleeper's name a deafening applause went up, and he remarked that he guessed the hearts of the people were all right on that subject, but paid the Judge a high compliment and urged the workmen to stand by him.

After a general review of the situation the speaker closed.

A Horrible Fallure.

The attempt of the democrats to "spoil" the republican rally on Wednesday evening resulted in a dismal failure. Herman Stockenström, assistant secretary of state, was billed to address the Scandinavians in the Swedish language at the rink, the democrats having previously engaged the band and the opera house. The audience at the rink numbered fully 400, and the address by Mr. Stockenström was received with rounds of applause. The gentleman is an orator of ability and although the Americans present could not understand the speaking they were entertained by the oratorical ability of the speaker. The Scandinavians speak in the highest terms of the lecture and many who were in doubt as to how they should vote state that they were set on the right track and will vote the straight republican ticket. Mr. Stockenström's comparison of the democratic banana and the republican stars and stripes called down the house. Taking it all round it was one of the most enthusiastic and telling demonstrations of the campaign.

The democratic Scandinavian effort was not so effective however. After assembling in front of the post-office the band played a few selections and proceeded to the opera house. The audience consisted of twenty-six persons, ten of them were Scandinavians. The speakers and five prominent democrats ascended to the stage and waited under cover of the boxes for the crowd to appear. Finally they stepped out upon the platform and beheld the twenty-six had vanished and the audience consisted of one man, and he was the janitor. The speakers and their escorts concluded they had better go home, and they too vanished, not a word was said. The St. Paul gentlemen were not impressed with Brainerd democracy.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen.

A democratic Scandinavian rally was unaccountably lost somewhere between sundown and candle-light on Wednesday, Oct. 31st. The last person who had positive information of the above mentioned property was one, Peter Mertz, who claimed he knew of the whereabouts of it during the afternoon of said Wednesday. Any information concerning it will be thankfully received and liberally rewarded by Postmaster Koop or Mayor Huestad at democratic headquarters.

Pt. Ripley Items.

Theives broke into Fred Reid's store Sunday night and took what money was in the drawer and nearly $50 worth of knives, razors, etc. They were also in Rose & Sons blacksmith shop, but only borrowed some tools to help them into the store. No clue to the thieves. It is thought they were some tramps who were loafing around on Sunday.

W. W. Erwin, of St. Paul, offers to clear young Randall of the murder of Zeigler for $750, so we hear, and that his parents were going to try and raise the money. We can't see why they want him to get clear, unless it is to kill the rest he said he wanted to kill around here.

Constable Rose received a letter from Chicago on Monday asking information and description of the murdered Zeigler. Perhaps the old man has relatives in this country that he did not know of, as he has said he did not know as he had any this side of the old country.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Pine City Lodge No. 81, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, held in this city Oct. 28th, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased our Great Grand Master to remove from our midst, by death, our late brother, Alex. Brown, who lost his life in a railroad accident Oct. 27th, 1888, at his post of duty. In the death of Brother Brown the B. of L. F. loses one of its tried and true members; his parents a kind and affectionate son, his friends a congenial companion, the railroad loses a faithful and efficient employee.

Resolved, While we bow down in humble submission to the will of the Great Grand Master, whose providence is based upon infinite wisdom, guided by the holy powers of love, we deeply sympathize with his stricken and sorrowing parents in their irreparable loss, and tender to them our willing assistance in their present sorrow, and a kind regard for their future welfare and happiness.

Resolved, That his departure from our midst to the unknown world is from the voice of Him who commands: "Be ye also ready," and though we bow down in sorrow, yet we humbly submit, and in our loss we are warned of our sinfulness and admonished to take heed of the frailty of human life.

PHIGEE DAVIES.

Grismer and Davies Coming.

J. P. Ennis, of New York, the general representative of the Grismer and Davies combination, arrived in the city last evening to complete the arrangements for the production here of two new plays on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Nov. 7 and 8, by his company. It is now some two years since Jos. R. Grismer and Phoebe Davies were last here, but the superb productions given by them at that time have not been forgotten by our citizens, and we predict that they will again show their appreciation of these painstaking and clever artists by giving them a rousing reception. On Wednesday evening next they will produce Frank Harvey's powerful melodrama "The World Against Her," and on Thursday evening Clay M. Greene's highly romantic play, "Forgiven." The election returns will be read from the stage each evening.

For Auditor.

To the Voters of Crow Wing County:— I hereby announced myself a candidate for re-election to the office of county auditor, and respectfully solicit your support.

Go to the polls early if you expect to vote. In the first ward there are 775 men registered and it will be an utter impossibility for them all to vote and some one must get left. It is the duty of every republican to vote early.

Mr. Henry Kniff, of Bay Lake, died Sunday last, aged 66. Mr. Kniff was an old soldier, belonging to the G. A. R. Post at Aitkin and was buried by them. He has been a sufferer from head disease and dropsy for many years.

W. A. Fleming—I think that special attention of the voters ought to be called to at least one of the proposed amendments to the state constitution. It is as follows:

Any combination of persons, either as individuals or as members or officers of any corporation to monopolize the markets for food products in this State, or to interfere with or restrict the freedom of such markets is hereby declared to be a criminal conspiracy, and shall be punished in such manner as the Legislature shall provide.

This is a direct blow at trusts, pools and corners, and will if adopted, prevent such combinations to raise the price of the necessities of life.

Bad Week.

On Saturday evening last as No. 1 was approaching a station called Wheelock, four miles this side of Motley, the train ran into an open switch, the engine and four cars plunging off a twenty-foot bank. The engineer had presence of mind enough to put on his air, and this prevented a horrible catastrophe. Fireman Alex. Brown was instantly killed and Engineer Swart was crushed and seriously hurt about the limbs but will recover. Clinton Mayne, who was riding on the steps of a mail car was caught between the car and bank and badly bruised, and it is yet uncertain whether he will recover or not. Two mail clerks were injured, but not seriously. None of the passengers received a scratch.

Fireman Brown's remains were sent to Jackson, Mich., by the B. of L. F.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The W. C. T. U. meeting held Tuesday, p. m., with Mrs. Huestis was well attended. The subject of reading "Hereditry" was very interesting. The Union voted to publish in the city papers resolutions correcting the opinion held by some that we, as an organization, are pledged to the third party. A committee was appointed to draft said resolutions who reported the following:

Resolved, that the best interests of the temperance cause require that the W. C. T. U., as an organization, announce our non-partisan stand in regard to the third party.

Resolved, that we do not consider any member of the W. C. T. U. disloyal to the temperance cause who does not endorse the third party.

Change of Time.

On Tuesday, the 6th inst., a new time card will be in effect on the N. P. R. R. No. 1 will reach Brainerd at 9:45 p. m., instead of 8:45, as now. No. 2 will arrive at 12:50 p. m., instead of 11:55 p. m. Nos. 3, 4 and 8 unchanged. No. 5 will arrive at 2:20 p. m. daily, instead of 1:20 p. m. No. 6 will arrive at 1:35 p. m. daily, instead of 12:55. No. 7 will arrive at 9:05 p. m., instead of 8:35. All trains run daily.

Notice of Dissolution.

"The Democrat is pleased to note by the Brainerd, Minn., Journal, that W. H. Mantor, Esq., formerly of the law firm of Curtis & Mantor, of this city, is a candidate for district attorney. Mr. Mantor tried several important criminal cases in this county with District Attorney Curtis, resulting in success, and his practice in the justice courts was also marked with success. Besides his successful practice Mr. Mantor also made many personal friends in Portage who regretted very much his departure from our flourishing city, but they will be glad to see his success anywhere, and hope he may be elected to district attorney, and we will warrant the county to get the best kind of service."—[Portage (Wis.) DONNELLY TALKS.

A Torch Light Procession Six Blocks Long.

Brainerd was enveloped in a blaze of glory on Thursday evening last as it never was before. The principal residences were illuminated and also the business houses. At 7:15 the republican forces began to assemble in front of Sleeper block and as fast as they came up they were handed torches. The line was formed on Sixth street with the uniform men in front. As fast as the men fell into rank they were provided with Roman candles. At the head of the column was the Brainerd band, and the mounted officers were Wm. Seeley, Dr. Camp and Dr. Groves. At 8 o'clock the column moved up Sixth street to Main and then to East Brainerd, where they were reinforced by the marching club of that place.

On the return line of men, two abreast, reached for a distance of six blocks and the effect was one of the grandest ever witnessed in this city. As the procession moved up Front street on the return hundreds of Roman candles and rockets were discharged and the effect can be better imagined than described. Arriving at the opera house the line filed in and were seated as far as possible in the parquet which had been reserved for them. The opera house was packed and every available inch of standing room above and below was occupied and many were unable to gain admission. C. L. Spaulding, president of the republican club, introduced Mr. Donnelly in his usual pleasant manner, and as the speaker advanced he was greeted with deafening applause. Mr. Donnelly prefaced his speech with complimentary remarks in relation to our city and the unusual turnout. Indeed, he thought that the demonstration would be highly flattering to even the cities of St. Paul or Minneapolis. After some preliminary remarks he proceeded to show up Mr. Shadrick's record as connected with the Knights of Labor. In fact he stated that Shadrick had been kicked out of that order and that he was nothing but a high private in the rear rank when he did belong instead of organizer as he stated to the democrats on Monday night.

When I returned from the British Isles I found a meeting called, made up from the Farmers' Alliance and other labor organizations. The meeting nominated me for governor. I did not think at the time that the project was broad enough. It was broad enough in principle, but I have broad enough as regards the finances. I went out and canvassed the state, and spent my own money. There was no money to further the campaign, as there was but $68 subscribed and but $16 in the treasury. I would not mention these humiliating facts were it not that I have been attacked from so many quarters. Well, the ophit was that the ticket was withdrawn. I did not ask them to do it, but the central committee did it from their own free will. I was then like the man in the "a man, without a party." I either had to fish or cut bait, so I went to the republican party. Now I said I had to choose a party, when the committee pulled the platform from under my feet. There was the prohibition party. It is composed of good men and all that, but it was too much like my own party. There wasn't enough of it. I saw that the prohibition party couldn't elect any one themselves. They could defeat somebody and it might be the wrong man. I found in this great national struggle that there was no time for side issues. In this great coming battle for the possession of the nation, the outcome of which holds the destiny of our beloved land, there is no time for hand organs and private views. A man must be fish, flesh or red herring.

I do not want to say anything abusive about the democratic party, but I say that it is made up of two parties like one of these prodigies we sometimes find in a hen coop—adobe and yolked egg. First, there is a liberal, representative party, who supported Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois. On the other hand there is the conservative party. In the time of war many democrats went down south and nobly fought for their flag; but let me remind you that there was another kind of soldier of the north who desert their army, thereby strengthening the arm of the enemy by weakening our own. Then again, that ignoble Buchanan said a few weeks before he retired from the chair: "While the south has no right to secede, the nation has no right to prevent it." This was just before Abraham Lincoln was sworn in, by the head at that time of the present government. If we were to listen to such doctrine as this our beautiful constellation of stars would become a blank.

When it comes to state democratic matters, who is the leader of that party in this state? Why James J. Hill. Who are his lieutenants? Michael Doran and Patrick Kelly. Two years ago Michael Doran went out into the country and spoke on living issues. He reduced the republican majority down to 2,000. Why then didn't the democratic party nominate him again, when he might possibly have wiped out the remaining 2,000? Because J. J. Hill, Messrs. Kelly and Doran did not want the democratic party to win under the leadership of Ames. They took him to the convention, which might well be called Jim Hill's bull, and slaughtered him and then threw him over the fence. There he lays now like a cat without a "meow" in his mouth or a wiggle in his tail. "Scratch a Russian and you find a tartar," might say, "Scratch the democratic party and you find Jim Hill." How could I have asked my friends of the Farm and Labor party to follow me if I had gone to such a party as this? I will not say anything unkind about Wilson, as I respect him as a man, but Kelly, Doran and Hill knew very well when they killed Ames that Wilson's ideas were different, or they would not have taken him. Now Wilson goes about talking on the tariff. "What in thunder has he to do with the tariff? Congress fixes the tariff. Do you suppose that if Wilson was elected—which he will not be—that he will write messages to the state legislature and tell them to repeal the tariff act? He ought to talk about the affairs of the state. He dare not, however, because if he did he would be taken off the head of the ticket. In regard to the republican candidate for governor, W. R. Merriam, let me say that he is a friend honest man; and will make the best governor the state ever had."

Mr. Donnelly called upon the laboring men to stand by Messrs. Fleming, Flynn and Dunn, the republican nominees for the legislature, and explained to them how disastrously it might result if democrats were sent from this district.

When he mentioned Judge Sleepor's name a deafening applause went up, and he remarked that he guessed the hearts of the people were all right on that subject, but paid the Judge a high compliment and urged the workmen to stand by him.

A Horrible Fall.

The attempt of the democrats to "spoils" the republican rally on Wednesday evening resulted in a dismal failure. Herman Stockenström, assistant secretary of state, was killed at the Scandinavian in the Swedish language at the rink, the democrats having previously engaged the band and the opera house. The audience at the rink numbered fully 400, and the address by Mr. Stockenström was received with rounds of applause. The gentleman is an orator of ability and although the Americans present could not understand the speaking they were entertained by the oratorical ability of the speaker. The Scandinavians speak in the highest terms of the lecture and many who were in doubt as to how they should vote state that they were set on the right track and will vote the straight republican ticket. Mr. Stockenström's comparison of the democratic banana and the republican stars and stripes called down the house. Taking it all round it was one of the most enthusiastic and telling demonstrations of the campaign.

The democratic Scandinavian effort was not so effective however. After assembling in front of the post-office the band played a few selections and proceeded to the opera house. The audience consisted of twenty-six persons, ten of them were Scandinavians. The speakers and five prominent democrats ascended to the stage and waited under cover of the boxes for the crowd to appear. Finally they stepped out upon the platform and beheld the twenty-six had vanished and the audience consisted of one man, and he was the janitor. The speakers and their escorts concluded they had better go home, and they too vanished, and not a word was said. The St. Paul gentlemen were not impressed with Brainerd democracy.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen.

A democratic Scandinavian rally was unaccountably lost somewhere between sundown and candle-light on Wednesday, Oct. 31st. The last person who had positive information of the above mentioned property was one, Peter Mertz, who claimed he knew of the whereabouts of it during the afternoon of said Wednesday. Any information concerning it will be thankfully received and liberally rewarded by Postmaster Koop or Mayor Hemsted at democratic headquarters.

Ft. Ripley Items.

Theives broke into Fred Reid's store Sunday night and took what money was in the drawer and nearly $50 worth of knives, razors, etc. They were also in Ross & Sons blacksmith shop, but only borrowed some tools to help them into the store. No clue to the thieves. It is thought they were some tramps who were loafing around on Sunday.

W. W. Erwin, of St. Paul, offers to clear young Randall of the murder of Zeigler for $750, so we hear, and that his parents were going to try and raise the money. We can't see why they want him to get clear, unless it is to kill the rest he said he wanted to kill around here.

Constable Rose received a letter from Chicago on Monday asking information and description of the murdered Zeigler. Perhaps the old man has relatives in this country that he did not know of, as he has said he did not know as he had any this side of the old country.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Pine City Lodge No. 81, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, held in this city Oct. 28th, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased our Great Grand Master to remove from our midst, by death, our late brother, Alex. Brown, who lost his life in a railroad accident Oct. 27th, 1888, at his post of duty, in the death of Brother Brown the B. of L. F. loses one of its tried and true members, his parents a kind and affectionate son, his friends a congenial companion, the railroad loses a faithful and efficient employee.

Resolved, While we bow down in humble submission to the will of the Great Grand Master, whose providence is based upon infinite wisdom, guided by the holy powers of love, we deeply sympathize with his stricken and sorrowing parents in their irreparable loss, and tender to them our willing assistance in their present sorrow, and a kind regard for their future welfare and happiness.

Resolved, That his departure from our midst to the unknown world is from the voice of Him who commands: "Be ye also ready, and though we have not seen him, yet we humbly submit, and in our loss we are warned of our situation and are admonished to take heed of the frailty of human life.

PHIGEE DAVIES.

Grismer and Davies Coming.

J. P. Ennis, of New York, the general representative of the Grismer and Davies combination, arrived in the city last evening to complete the arrangements for the production here of two new plays on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Nov. 7 and 8, by his company. It is now some two years since Jos. R. Grismer and Phoebe Davies were last here, but the superb productions given by them at that time have not been forgotten by our citizens, and we predict that they will again show their appreciation of these painstaking and clever artists by giving them a rousing reception. On Wednesday evening next they will produce Frank Harvey's powerful melodrama "The World Against Her," and on Thursday evening Clay M. Greene's highly romantic play, "Forgiveness." The election returns will be read from the stage each evening.

For Auditor.

To the Voters of Crow Wing County:—
I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of county auditor, and respectfully solicit your support.
